

Article Submission: Authors who want to submit their articles for publication in our journal for evaluation can upload their work by following the steps in the system after logging into our journal management system at www.achmedicaljournal.com. If you be careful to the items in the title of the checklist for authors before uploading, it will speed up the publication process of your work.

Article Withdrawal: Collaboration between the journal editor and the author is required for withdrawal due to our publication policies.

Authors who want to withdraw their works during the evaluation phase should submit the petition containing their justifications to the editorial board in electronic or printed form, indicating that all authors have approved it.

The Editorial Board examines the request and will reply to the authors within ten days at the latest. The author cannot send his work to another journal for evaluation, unless the request for withdrawal of the work is approved by the editorial board at the stage of submitting copyright articles.
